

DENVER SOUTH: TRANSPORTATION

THE PARTNERSHIP

Denver South partners with public and private entities in the South I-25

Urban Corridor working to promote relationships between the partners for the purpose of identifying and developing transportation solutions to enhance mobility, drive economic development and further position Denver South in the I-25 Corridor.

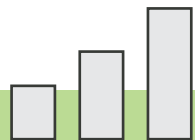

WHO WE ARE

Denver South is both the community surrounding the I-25 corridor south of Denver and the organization that convenes public and private stakeholders to drive our shared vision. We leverage public-private partnerships and regional collaboration to improve mobility for all who live, work, and play in the region.

Our jurisdictional partners include Arapahoe County, City of Centennial, City and County of Denver, Douglas County, City of Greenwood Village, and City of Lone Tree.

OUR PRIORITY

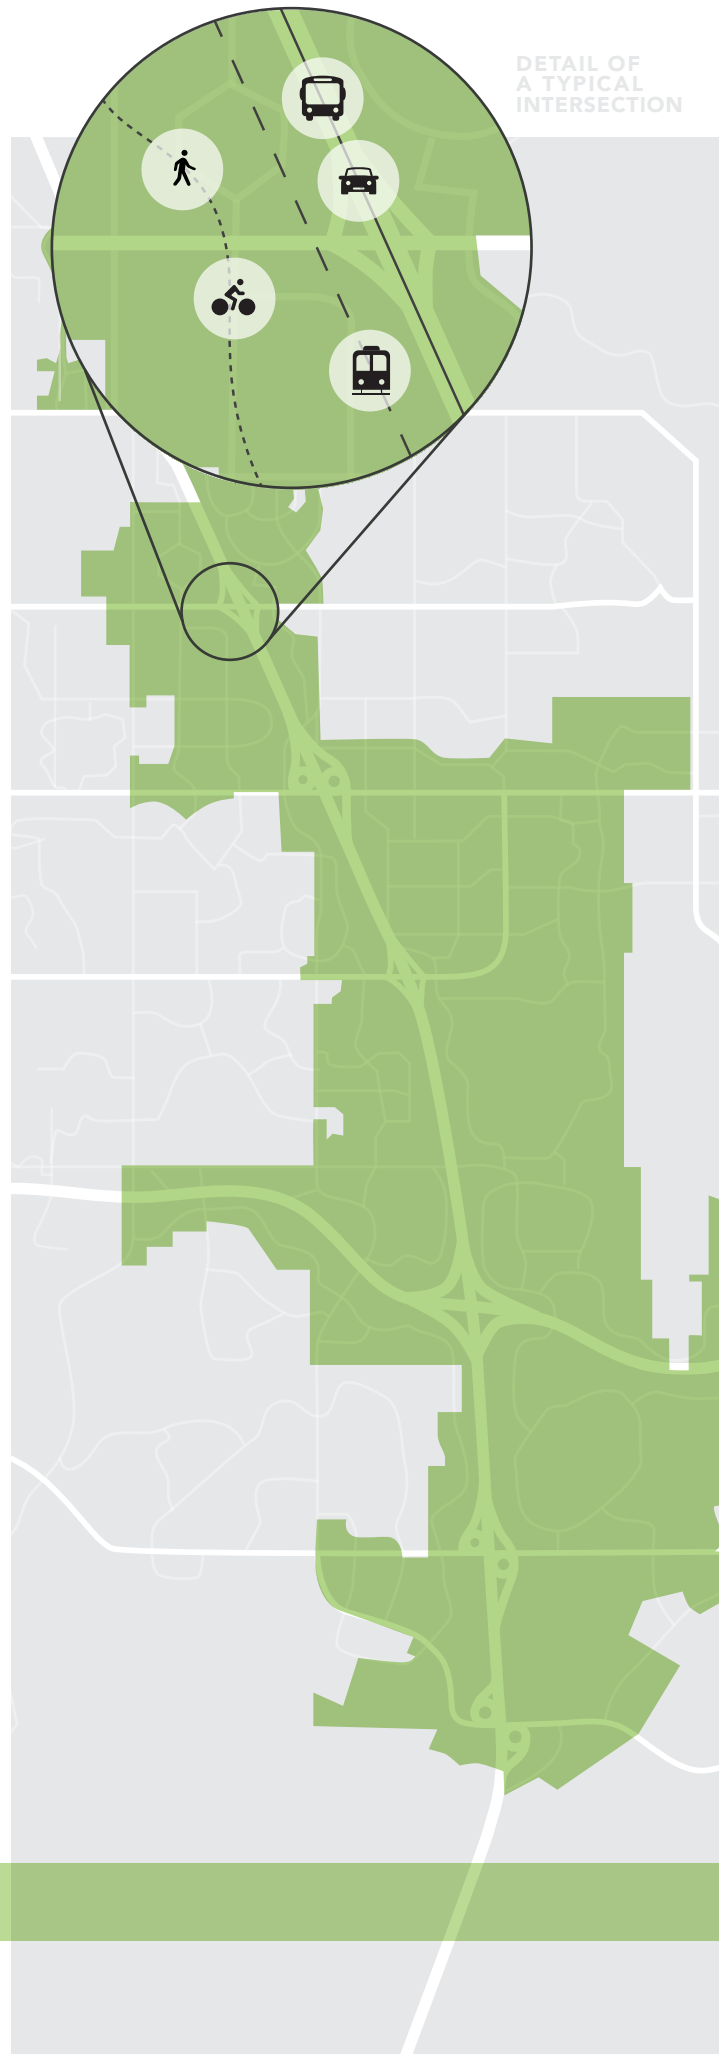

Mobility is an enormous part of maintaining and improving the high quality of life Denver South residents enjoy. It makes this region among the most desirable places to live, work, and play in the nation. Denver South's goal to reduce traffic congestion with tailored mobility options prioritizes freedom of movement, mode choice, and practicality, which benefits us all.

EVALUATE

ENCOURAGE

WHAT WE DO

1 EVALUATE

Perform detailed site analysis to assess employee needs and opportunities.

Conduct employee commuting surveys to determine current commuting habits, impacts and employee interest in sustainable alternatives.

2 EDUCATE

Provide a detailed report of commuting costs and develop a customized action-plan outlining attainable goals.

3 ENCOURAGE

Identify and help implement solutions for getting your employees to work in the most efficient and effective ways possible. Work with employers to create a turn-key, tailor-made employee campaign.

AN ABUNDANCE OF TRANSPORTATION OPTIONS

Denver South is unique and robust with transportation and commuting options for everyone. Those who live, work, and play in the region have unlimited access to choose how they move. From RTD's light rail service, the Lone Tree Link, CDOT's Bustang, Way to Go's van, school and carpools and of course, walking and biking. We've got you covered. We work on first/last mile solutions, as well as data-driven solutions to improve congestion and air quality for those who choose to live, work, and play in Denver South.

PROGRAMS

WALK/BIKE CONNECTIVITY

Denver South promotes active transportation as an alternative to driving alone. Home to three major cycling paths and an abundance of sidewalks, Denver South can help you and your organization navigate best routes for cycling and walking.

WAY TO GO PROGRAMS

Denver South partners with the Denver Region Council of Governments (DRCOG) Way to Go program to develop free commuting programs such as car, van and schoolpools specifically for you and your company. Way To Go can save your business and your employees money, reduce stress, improve overall health and help the environment.

TELEWORK/FLEXIBLE WORK

Denver South has long advocated for telework and flexible schedules as solutions to relieve traffic congestion and improve air quality. Denver South provides resources to launch and support flexible and telework programs, policies, and best practices.

TRANSIT YOUR WAY

Home to eight rail lines and eight FlexRide stations, Denver South partners with RTD to support bus, rail, and Flexride services and programs in the region. Denver South can help educate and inform our stakeholders on all things transit including employee pass programs.

CUSTOMIZED EMPLOYER/EMPLOYEE PROGRAMS

- Provide one-on-one consultations
- Conduct site analysis to support bike/walk friendly environment
- Employer Transportation Champions initiative to identify sustainable transportation solutions
- Create and execute customized employer surveys

LONE TREE LINK

Denver South is pleased to join with the City of Lone Tree supporting the Lone Tree Link On Demand free shuttle service. Getting around Lone Tree has never been easier with on-demand rides.

BUSTANG

Working to relieve commuter traffic along I-25 Denver South promotes CDOT's Bustang providing service each weekday between Colorado Springs and Denver.

EMPLOYER TRANSPORTATION CHAMPIONS

Become a champion for your organization. Denver South convenes the Employer Transportation Champion program bringing thought leaders together from the region's major employers to promote sustainable transportation initiatives and solutions.

DATA RESOURCE

As a data-driven organization, Denver South consistently works to measure, manage, and improve mobility based on data. We work continuously with our jurisdictional partners to evaluate and integrate data to find solutions. Our partnership with TomTom allows us to access real-time data for ongoing transportation planning.
